

The European Sea Ports Conference

PORT FINANCING AND INVESTMENT

INCLUDING A DEBATE ON THE NEW EU 'PORTS PACKAGE'

The ESPO 2012 Conference will address the most important enabling factors behind port development. By comparing financial trends affecting the port sector, investment opportunities and regulatory issues related to public / private partnerships, concessions and financial autonomy of port authorities, the conference aims to gather stimulating food for thought in challenging economic times. The conference will also devote considerable attention to the future EU 'ports package' that the European Commission recently announced. Confirmed speakers already include: Siim Kallas, Vice-President of the European Commission responsible for Transport, Clemence Cheng, Managing Director Central Europe of Hutchison Port Holdings, Dimitrios Theologitis, Head of Ports Policy at the European Commission, James Cooper, Director of Infracapital Partners LP, Jakob Svane, Confederation of Danish Industry, Tapio Karvonen, Centre for Maritime Studies Turku, Andrew Webster, Partner at JLT Specialty Limited, Francesco Nerli, President of Assoport and Eddy Van de Voorde, University of Antwerp.
